

Major Disaster Declarations in the U.S.

June 2022

The number of Major Disaster Declarations in the United States has increased over time

*Declarations are made individually for each affected county; only distinctly-coded disasters were counted.

SOURCE Federal Emergency Management Agency, Disaster Declarations database

Number of Major Disaster Declarations by state during the past 10 years

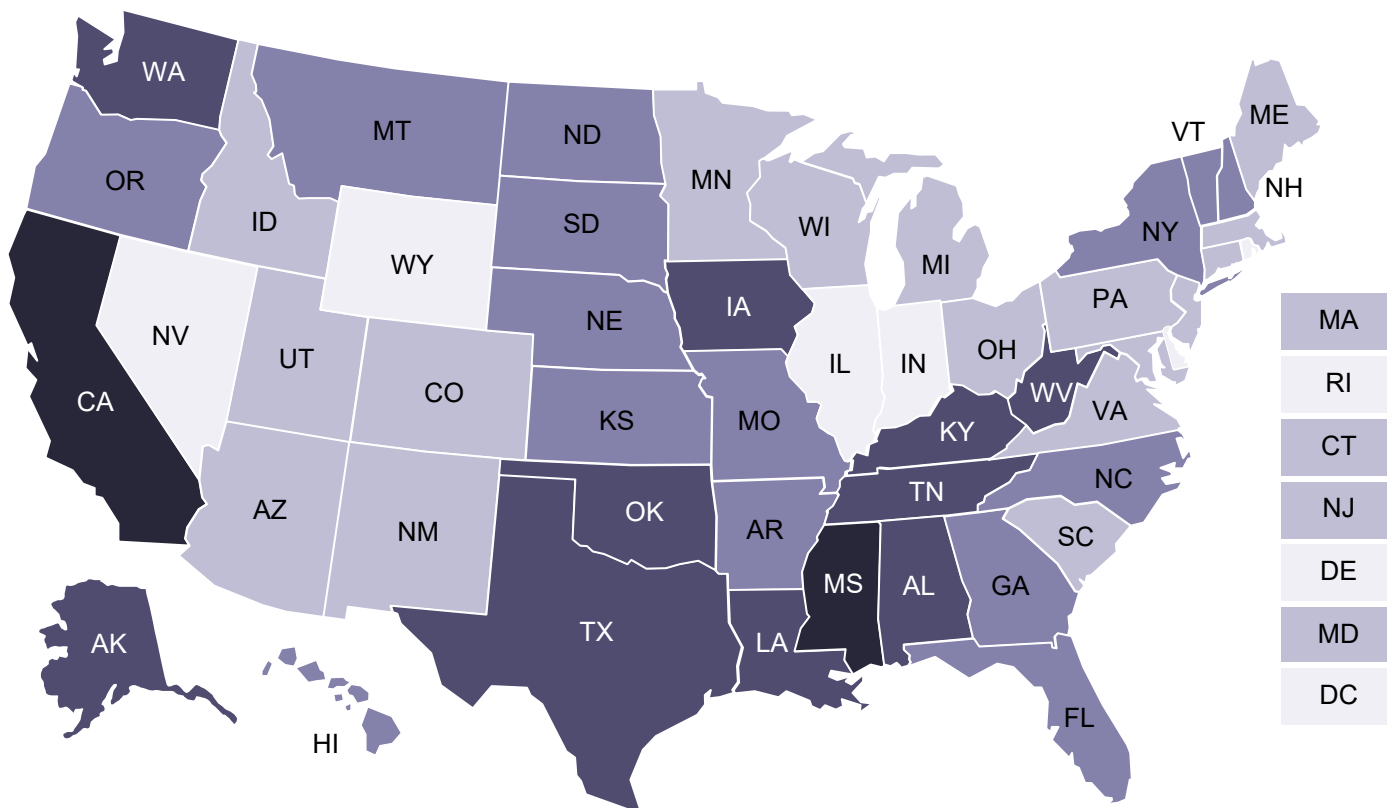

*Declarations are made individually for each affected county; only distinctly-coded disasters were counted.

SOURCE Federal Emergency Management Agency, Disaster Declarations database

Major Disaster Declarations over the past 10 years

Number of distinct Major Disaster Declarations* by state, FY 2012-2022

0-5 6-10 11-15 16-20 21+

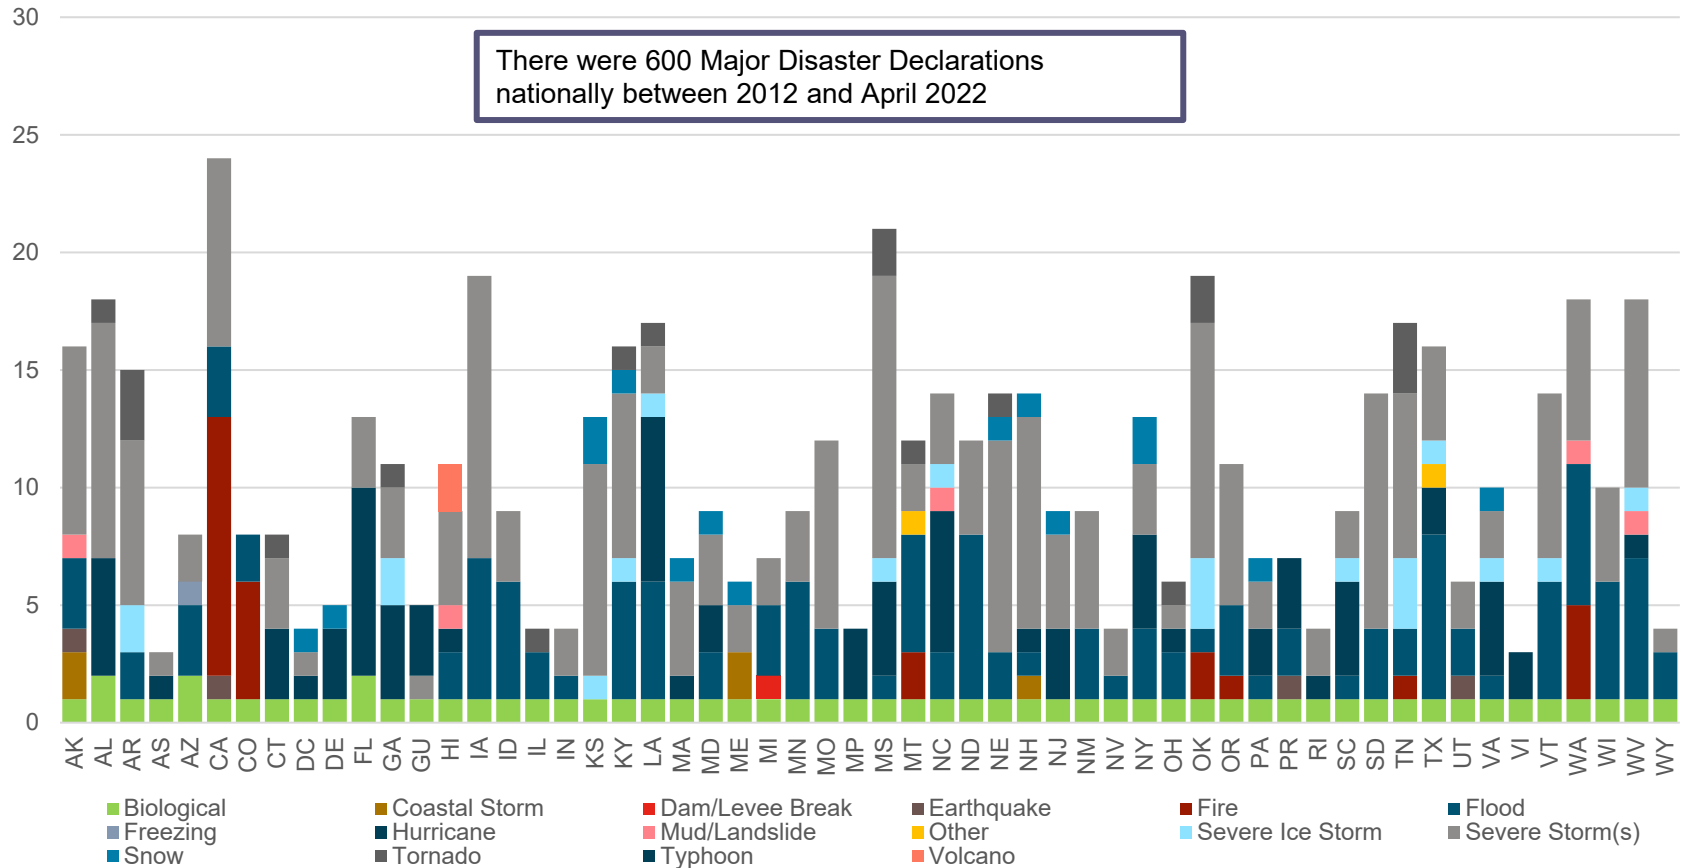

*Declarations are made individually for each affected county; only distinctly-coded disasters were counted.

SOURCE Federal Emergency Management Agency, Disaster Declarations database

Major Disaster Declarations by state*, FY 2012-2022*, by FEMA incident type

There were 600 Major Disaster Declarations nationally between 2012 and April 2022

*Declarations are made individually for each affected county; only distinctly-coded disasters were counted.

Graph includes "biological" Major Disaster Declarations from the COVID-19 pandemic.

SOURCE Federal Emergency Management Agency, Disaster Declarations database

Major Disaster Declarations Across the 10 FEMA Regions

Number of distinct Major Disaster Declarations* by FEMA region, FY 2012-2022

0-5 6-10 11-15 16-20 21+

Incident colors correspond to the color legend on the previous chart

*Declarations are made individually for each affected county; only distinctly-coded disasters were counted.

SOURCE Federal Emergency Management Agency, Disaster Declarations database